Nov. 7 & 8…Youth Deer Hunting Weekend….I have the names of four youth from Town, Thomas Lawyer, Victor Trivento, Benah Cluba and Dana Fuller. Congratulations to each new hunter !!! This weekend the usual rifle season began until after Thanksgiving…November 14 -29.

11/9..Took care of Cemetery Business first as I have had calls about the hole in the road going up to the Cemetery, so that will be repaired. That Spring at the top of the hill has been a problem for many years, it must be a good Spring as it never runs dry. 11/10..I went to Walmarts with Maggie, we had a good time, Maggie was looking for small white Christmas lights for a new project she has in mind, found some but not exactly what she had in mind, But they will do. It was a busy day there and we found other needed items before we headed back home. Also Today the 500 Card Club met at the home of Carmen Scott's, with Kathy Ross as Hostess, she brought all preparation for snacks, drinks, and treats. Everyone had a wonderful time, Brent Godin had high score 3320, He was sub for Marge Cummings, second high was Sue Peters 3300, low score was Stacey Gregoire 360, most horses was won by high card draw Therese Begnoche.
Denise Baker and Therese each had 4.

Wednesday…Bowling Day, and I got up early had it on my mind to make my gingerbread cookies, and I got started before 7 a.m., I cut out turkeys, So I could take a few with me to serve to the Game Players, The Turkeys, there is only three and The Excavators played in our lane and I took cookies for them also. It was a fun time as there is so much humor with all the players, really wonderful people. Today Elsie won the high score, She won the Quarters. It's amazing how well these ladies do…I just wish I could handle a bowling ball..but they are to heavy for me. There are fellows that play, are almost 90 years of age, they come faithfully every week to play.

Thursday is our Senior Dinner at the Dairy Center, Therese Begnoche picks up Connie McFarland in the Center and Sue Peters and me in the Village to head to our destination. We get there just before 11, that is when the Band starts playing, the place is half full already, we are not the early birds. My Nieces from Highgate area come up to visit with me and also with my Montgomery Friends they have become acquainted with. Lise announced that her December Dinner is planned for the 3rd. We all were well fed with the delicious food that was prepared today…toss salad, cooked squash, mashed potatoes..gravy, rolls, sliced turkey, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie.
Yum..Yum. Sally Shover sat near by me and introduced herself to me, It has been years since seeing her, she is a Niece of Arthur St,Onge, his sister Alice married a Shover.

11/12..Also the Elementary School Hot Lunch Program had prepared a lunch for families to come and eat lunch with their child, or Grandparents Or Great GrandParents. There was s good turn out and everyone had a delicious meal. Thanks to all the Cooks and Volunteers that help on this meal.

Friday..I had a knock on my door before 10 o'clock, it was Chase Joyal coming to remove my old cement step that got ruined by the salt last winter. He had this enormous big flat rock, that fit perfectly in this space where he removed the cement, when I saw that rock I could hardly believe my eyes, that this rock was going to be mine..it is gorgeous.!! Yes, that is how I feel about rocks and stones, I have collected white stones for years and my yard has several, when our water system was put in a few years ago, I had saved my special large ones near the fence line out of the way..OR SO I THOUGHT, when they come to fill back in the dirt…YES..my big rocks were shoved in with the dirt…I was heart broken and cried, the fellow see my tears and said he would dig them up. Sonny said NO, he really did not care as much for stones as me, as he had picked stones at the farm and there were many stone piles to prove his point. Then Sonny worked with a Brick/Stone Mason for years. He got his fill of stones. I Understood!!

11/15..It's Sunday, we had a Trustee Meeting scheduled for 8 a.m..and no delays due to the weather..it had snowed on the higher elevations, Saturday afternoon it looked like it could be snowing from what we could see across the way, we call it West Hill from our big window. John Gorton had prepared the Sunday Service, entitled his sermon "Who Do We Serve." Merle Van Gieson prints out the bulletins and brings them to Church each Sunday. Vivian had an announcement for all of us, Our young Mother Chloe and Husband Hunter Maskell, announce the arrival of their son DJ..made himself known November 9. "A Baby Boy—How Sweet!!You must be so proud!! Love and Congratulations to all of you.

Jokes 1. What did the pumpkin say after Thanksgiving? "Good Pie Everyone". 2. What do mashed Potatoes say during an argument? I'm not whipped —You are. 3. Why did the cranberry sauce start a band? It had the perfect jam. 4. What do you call a pregnant woman on Thanksgiving? Double stuffed. *. Enjoy!!! Have a good week folks…..Love To All…
11/15..It has been a damp cool day no snow flurries here in the Village just enjoying the cozy warmth we have inside. Called locally to see if there had been many deer reported this weekend from our hunter's and so far it has been a good report.
