

LOIS WITH THE MONTGOMERY NEWS, NOVEMBER 19, 2023

On Tuesday 11/14 the 500 Card Club met at the home of Anita Woodward at noon time to begin our afternoon play. Anita had snacks and punch prepared for the afternoon to help yourself as needed. In the start of each game we pick a card to determine where we will start, as there are three tables set up to have four players at each table, #1 is the head table, then #2 & 3. WE have four hands to each of the eight rounds that are played. Carmen Scott and Marge Cummings started at table one and they were partners for the whole afternoon, that happens once in awhile but not often, they had high and second high score for the afternoon a total of 3660; low score went to Denise Baker 850; and a two way tie for most horses, high card draw winner was Sue Cherrier with Debbi Chauvin. Anita has a large window to watch the many birds that come to her feeder and the birds were busy gathering seeds as the weather was changing as we were playing cards, a cold freezing mist was falling. But we all got home safely and we all had a wonderful afternoon. I played cards in the absence of Therese Begnoche. Our December gathering will be hosted by Connie McFarland on the 12th. 11/19..wild turkeys were busy feeding down in the field as we were leaving town today. We went to get us a turkey at Hannafords for our Thanksgiving dinner. A Good Time To Wish All of You Readers, "A HAPPY THANKSGIVING DAY." GOD BLESS!!

11/19.. MERLE VAN GIESON prepared our Church Service today and entitled the message "Respond To God's Gifts," and had some of the Scripture readings read by Patrick Evans, and finished by Merle. When we came out of Church it was snowing, but did not last long, as it was starting to warm up, mostly rain fell if anything. One of those days to get a little everything. The weathermen are watching and will keep us posted about the storm headed our way on Wednesday into Thursday, just hope its nothing too terrible.

11/19..Veronica and Samantha should e arriving back home tomorrow, 11/20..they have had a wonderful week with Jayden, and he has taken them on several tours, which Veronica has pictures, she will want to share with her family and friends.
