**A local news reporter went to interview an elderly lady that just married for the fourth time at the age of 80. The reporter asked if she minded being asked questions about her life, and what it like to be married at 80; and what was her husband occupation? He is a Funeral Director, she answered. Interesting, the reporter thought. Do you mind telling about your first three husbands and what they did for a living? She paused for a few moments as she needed to reflect back on all those years. I married a Banker in my 20's; then a Circus Ring Master in my 40's; and a Preacher in my 60's, and now at 80 I married a Funeral Director. The reporter looked at her quite astonished and wondered why she had married men with such diverse careers. She answered, I married one for the money, two for the show, three to get ready, and four to go.****
