

LOIS WITH THE MONTGOMERY NEWS, July 14, 2019

7/13..There were around 12 or 13 Vendors that came to the Farmer's Market this Saturday. The day was off to a wet start as the rains the day before dampened the grounds. There was music again provided by Silas McPrior "Indigenous Entertainment" another one man band. He allowed me to play his guitar and that was fun for me, I joined him just moments before closing at 1 p.m. Veronica deSaintPhalle had a good day selling her jewelry. She has made beautiful tatted pieces. Its always nice to spend some time with her and to meet several people that come by.

7/13. The Funeral Service for James Robitaille was held at Goss Funeral Home in Enosburg, Vt.; with the Reverend Dave DiZazzo officiating the service. Family and Friends shared memories during the service and following the service Jacques Robitaille father of James invited everyone back to his home in Montgomery where everyone could come and enjoy a meal and fellowship together. Thanks to everyone that shared this day with the Robitaille Family. God Bless everyone!!

7/10.. The July 500 Card Club met at the lovely home of Sue Cherrier, She invited everyone to come for lunch and she prepared delicious salads, cold cuts so we could make our own sandwich, cold drinks, and a strawberry pie. There was certainly plenty to eat and for the afternoon she had snacks to munch on. We were ready to play cards at 1 p.m. and soon we all received our 10 cards and away we go. Denise Baker ended up with high score, and second high went to Sue Peters, low score to Connie McFarland and most horses our hostess Sue Cherrier. The weather was perfect and we had full view of all of Sue and John's beautiful veggie and flower gardens. They have many kinds of birds flying around and a feeder for the humming birds, but a little woodpecker must be good friends with the humming birds as he came often to eat at this feeder; most of us have never witnessed that happening. We all enjoyed a wonderful afternoon and Thanks to Sue for sharing her wonderful home and preparing all of us a delicious lunch. Sue Peters will host the August card Club at her home.

Do you have a story to share about your life here in Montgomery? "Montgomery Stories" with guest Tim Murphy will be at the Pratt Hall (MHS) starting August 2 AT 7 P.M. Come and share your story, whatever it may be, its going to be informal, and fun.

I , heard that the "Wine and Cheese-Silent Auction was another successful fundraiser for the Town Library this year. It was held at the B&B at Phineas Swan on Main Street in Montgomery Center, Friday night 7/12. A Special Thanks to Darren and Lynn Drevik for space to have this event and Thanks to all for their donations.

**Respect your elders: They graduated from school without the internet.**Behind every angry woman stands a man who has absolutely no idea what he did wrong." It has been a wonderful Sunday and it is clouding up a bit and cooled down and less humid, my hubby just came in and said its sprinkling. We are in for another nice week and enjoy it!! M.L.T.A.
