

LOIS REPORTING FROM MONTGOMERY, FEBRUARY 21, 2021

What a gorgeous Sunday, the sky is blue and sunshine most the day, maybe sugaring is just around the corner. My niece wrote this for me to share. " Noses are red, Fingers are blue, I'm tired of winter, How about You?"

My little poem entitled.. IT'S MORE OF THE SAME...

Here we are almost through the second month of 2021; Still dealing with the covid-19 virus, NO FUN!! Still have to wear a mask when leaving our home; Don't allow anyone in , even if you live alone. Still no word of any annual events planned for this year; Knowing this pandemic is lingering near. So far many people I know are doing just fine; keeping busy and their nose to the grind. It is terrible for the ones that are stuck at home; Some have pets so they are not necessarily alone. Some are enjoying the out door sports or making a beautiful snowman; while others stay inside working on a puzzle or word search whatever they can. The Children are once again, not going to school; Staying home for them obeying the guidelines and our state rules. Now the vaccination shots are being given all around the U.S.A.; You have to get two shots, for you to feel saved. Lets hope by having the shot this pandemic will soon go away; Just ask God for healing when you Pray. Please heal our Country of this terrible virus; Bring back your Peace, Joy and Love to all of us.

Happy Birthday to:Paulette O'bar, Colby tanner 3/1; George Roberts 3/2; Elyssa Fletcher 3/3; Robin Houle 3/4; Sandy Bowman, Prudy Ryea 3/5; Hudson Baker 3/6.

Anniversary Wishes to..Lyndol and Lila Elkins 2/28; Ed and Judy Sorrell 3/4; Tony and Jody Jones 3/5.

**Quoted. # 1..After a long time, I told my hot co-worker how I felt; Turns out she was feeling the same way; SO I turned on the air-conditioner.!! # 2..My wife apologized for the first time today; She said, I'm sorry I ever married you. ** Keep safe, stay happy and God Bless!! M.L.T.A.
