

LOIS WITH THE MONTGOMERY NEWS, SEPTEMBER 5, 2021

Today 9/5, our Church Service was special by having the Baptism of little Dennis Francis Reidy III by Pastor Bonnie Hovermann officiating; in attendance were his parents Dennis and Lydia, and their Family members. Holy communion followed . They were presented with the Baptism Certificate, the candle and other gifts welcoming our new brother in Christian Faith Dennis Francis Reidy III. Holy Communion followed.

Also a big surprise to everyone when Harold and Lisanne Greco-Gross stopped in to attend our Church Service, while up visiting her parents. They had arrived earlier in August to attend the wedding of her sister. Sandy Bowman asked if he was going to sing for us and he said he would, when it was time for his hymn he picked one of Sandy's favorite "He touched Me" that was very touching and he ended the service in prayer, for Pastor Bonnie.

Three more Vermont Roadside Historic Site Markers were installed in Town this last week, one each at the Town's Most traveled covered bridges, the Longley, Fuller and Comstock. Each sign provided a brief history and significance of these iconic structures built by the Jewett Brothers.

This culminates a year long effort spearheaded by the Historical Society. Special Thanks to Sue Wilson, and Jo Anne Bennett, the Town Public Works Crew Mark Brouillette, Mark Guilmette and Scott Ovitt, who installed the signs and the Vermont Division for Historic Preservation. A Special Thanks to all involved!!

All of the Town's covered bridges are on the National Register of Historic Places. Markers for the Hutchins and Creamery Bridge will be nominated in the future. A short ceremonial "unveiling" will take place Saturday, September 11th at 1:30 at Pratt Hall. The public is invited for cider and cookies.

My afternoon is ending up relaxing knowing that our Daughters Veronica and Penny and Grand-daughter Samantha Royer are back home after taking off Saturday morning to go and visit Brother/Uncle Frank and Karen Lumbrina in Bow, New Hampshire. They have returned safely and they had a wonderful weekend, Penny said Mom there was so much LOVE shared between us. Now that is wonderful NEWS.

 An elderly man is taking the road test to renew his license. The instructor tells him, that when she taps on the dashboard she wants him to slow down and show her the action he'd take if a young child ran out in front of his car. They take off and after a few minutes she taps on the dashboard. The old man screeches the car to a halt, puts down the window and yells to the empty street, 'Be careful where you are going, you little jerk!' **

This is all folks for this week.. enjoy!!! M.L.T.A. God Bless the U.S.A.
