

It is time to get started on my News for this week, for me I am a little late. I went up to Sylvester's market to get some vegetables to make my Chicken Soup, I just used all my frozen ones, Penny had quite a few summer squash that I had cut up and frozen them and they are just wonderful in soups. We had our usual snow shower overnight, had a little fluffy stuff to clean off the sidewalk at Church, I cleaned it off yesterday afternoon, while the sun was shining on it, pretty near cleared the walk, but this morning that new snow made it like a skating ring. It used just about all the salt and sand that was down there to make it safe to walk on. John Gorton came and officiated our Church Service, his sermon was entitled "What Are Our Priorities." John had me read the Scriptures today. Our organist Patrick Evans gave us news that he will be taking some time off, as he has to have some surgery and will require time to heal. We all wish YOU WELL, and a quick recovery.

On Wednesday. 2/5 it was Bowling Day, and sadly to say I did not go with Sue Peters and the gang..I got a bit tired here at home, and had not had a good nights sleep. Just thought it best to stay home and miss everyone. I thought I might get a nap in...BUT did not. Later in the afternoon I cleaned the snow off our driveway. The snow and cold have been with us all week long. So my friend sent me this little joke. It's so cold..the farmer milked his cows..he got ice cream. I know utterly it sounds silly but you can milk it for all it's worth.
