

LOIS WITH THE MONTGOMERY NEWS, MAY 25, 2025

5/19...This begins a new week and Parma Jewett has her monthly senior meal, she prepares a delicious meal for several senior citizens from Town. We have to sign up by calling Sue Wilson, and. Sue gives Parma the count for Monday, how many to serve. This month Parma had prepared a turkey pot pie individually each person got one..SOOO delicious. Then each person gets a salad, dessert which was a chocolate pudding cake with whipped cream. Peggy Doheny was there helping to serve and clean up. Thanks so much Peggy and to ALL the ladies that volunteer. Thank You All So Much..for helping Parma.

5/20.As we all know we are having a rainy spell, and no longer in a drought. We can be lucky not to be in the tornado's and extreme weather that is going on a few states from us. I accompanied SueP and her happy little companion Zeus to Enosburg just for a quick trip. Wednesday was a beautiful sunny day 60 degrees here in Montgomery..got outside to do some work in my plants that sort of take care of themselves, Hosta's are just beautiful..so green and filled out, they wrap around my yard. I talked with my sister down near Windsor and they had rain all day down there.

5/22-24..My daughter Veronica DSP and nephew Peter Corse were coming to set tables and chairs to be used for Saturday after the Graveside Service for my Brother Colin Corse. They got here about 10:45 and that was completed by Will Moses and me. Will came a bit early to help Peter. Then Peter, Veronica and Me went into Enosburg, as I had to go to the Bank and Hannafords, that was done and we came home Peter and Veronica headed for home. Friday I made cakes, brownies and frostings, lemonade, and I donated butter, milk, V-8 juice and paper products. Friday afternoon my Son Dale and Patrick were going to be here around 5:30 and they were, we had time to sit and visit for a few hours before they went to Jay Peak where they enjoy going for an overnight or two. This time it will be 4 nights as they leave Tuesday to return to Mass, We planned ahead for the Families coming to Colin's service as it has been wet and much to cool to be outside., therefore I canceled going to the Rec. Center at the Pavilion, no problem as everyone understood it was much to wet and cold. Saturday morning it was misty out and as we were gathering at the Cemetery the mist stopped long enough so we got the Service completed and it was raining by the time we got to the Church. There was a good turnout of Family Members all bringing something for a warm Pot-luck sit down luncheon, all delicious salads,casseroles, rolls, and a variety of desserts..Yes the Pumpkin whoopi pies with a maple filling was a big hit Someone said later to me they could win a prize with those Whoopi pies. We were a large Family and for the remaining few of us it was a wonderful gathering. God Bless us all.

P.S. Also Saturday at 1 p.m. There was a Graveside Memorial Service held for Thomas Martell, at the M.Village Cemetery. It rained during the service but everyone kept dry as a new tent had been donated from Veronica de Saint Phalle as she was not using it anymore, It was a perfect time to have it as it was used the very day the gift was given for Cemetery use. Thanks Veronica it's greatly appreciated.

It is Sunday and been a busy day and very enjoyable, went to Church as usual and Will came in early and we had a nice visit, Linda Elkins feeling much better was with us, I called Vivian before going to Church as her hubby Bob Elbe is at home with Hospice Care helping out/. But she said he is dealing with lots of pain and may go in for more radiation to help ease the pain in his back. John Gorton prepared the Sunday Service and Officiated with his sermon entitled "The Source Of Life." I want to Thank Patrick for playing a special song in Memory of my Brother.. "Beyond The Sunset." It just seemed so perfect. After Church Penny, Dale and Veronica wanted to meet and eat at the Cajun. So we did. Penny wanted to try route 58 to go to the Cajun and it was not bad at all..We enjoyed the ride over and back. Had a good dinner and visit, before returning home/. This afternoon Alex St. Onge came to the church as I asked him if he could pull the big huge rose bush out near the steps as we Trustee's had a meeting to get a nice garden planted..Maggie Elkins has offer help, Jeff Altrui has offer to help. That old rose root is taking over the frontage of the church, maybe we should have a rose garden.... While Alex was here he cut down the two big trees on the right side of the church, now we need a good brush whacker that has a blade, to cut down other over grown weeds or flowers. Alex I sincerely Thank You. I've had a busy day therefore I am a little late with my News.
