

LOIS WITH THE MONTGOMERY NEWS, DECEMBER 7, 2025

Just got through the first week of December, with a few more inches of snow coming down to us. But we have had a few hours of nice sunshine. We had our coldest temperatures this week, we had 10 below..with a blustering wind and snow. Thursday morning there were several snow squalls being warned by our local weathermen, a call came in early to Penny, that there was going to be a two hour delay bringing kids to school. That seemed to work just fine as it seem to clear out of here shortly after, when these squalls come through the visibility can become hard to see, to drive. There were a few accidents on the bigger highway.

Wednesday, Sue Peters, joined with the Bowling Team in the Center to go to Lowell. I did not go as I had a chance to go elsewhere, to get my banking taken care of, so got all my business taken care of, and that was a relief to have done. On Thursday it was our,Senior Citizens Christmas dinner at the Dairy Center, It was another wild snow squalls and windy conditions day. Lise and helpers had prepared a delicious Pork Dinner, salad.rolls, hot mashed potatoes, carrots, sliced pork,gravy. Dessert was chocolate cake with peanut butter frosting. I had made a dessert using Rice Krispie treats, put it in my lamb mold, and frosted and decorated it. Lise Gates adored it and it was given to her as a Merry Christmas gift from all of us from Montgomery that attend her meals each month. Lise does so much for others, and knowing how much she liked the lamb, it was rewarding to her and she was so appreciative. God Bless you Lise, We Love You!!

Saturday morning Maggie called me as she was going Into Enosburg, asked me to come with her. Our intentions was to check out solar lights, for the Village Park Tree. Then as she was thinking more about lights she remembered her son Clay had given her a bag of white lights. There was a special on some so we ended up getting 3 small boxes of 70 lights. Our intentions were to get help from Alex St.Onge to come with their long extension cord we used a few years ago to go from the pole to the tree. I called Alex to come up and we would try out a set of lights before we went down with all our needs. Alex tried both of the plug ins that were there and no electricity lit up the lights, which all worked before going on the park. Boohoo..we tried.

This Sunday Church Service was prepared by John Gorton entitled his sermon "Enjoy The Story." Our new neighbor Tessa came over while I was cleaning the Church side walk to introduce herself to me and had a bag of salt to put some on the icy spots. I Thanked her and told her it was greatly appreciated, and come join our morning Service.

Saturday December 13..the Huge Craft Show at the Elementary School, starting at 9 a-3p.m. They will have a Breakfast and Lunch meals available for you. Lots of wonderful homemade ideas.

NOTE. Saturday, December 20th, There will be a Horse Drawn Ride from the Historical Society down through the Comstock Covered Bridge, back up on the main road, you make sure to dress warm, and you can sing as you ride, its a wonderful Family Fun Day, Santa makes his appearance at noon time,he will arrive on the Montgomery Fire Truck..how exciting!!!!

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 21,,The United Methodist Church will have the Carols and Candles event starting at 5 p.m. Come and enjoy a wonderful Christmas evening and refreshments.

Happy Birthday to: Joan Ramey, Brooke Fletcher 12/15; John Youland 12/16; Barbara Walker, John Newton, Mary Robert's, Sarina Poirier 12/18; Denise Baker, David Burns Philippa Coville 12/19; Kim Smith 12/20.

Anniversary wishes to Charlie and Patricia Carpenter 12/20/25.

1. What kind of all doesn't bounce? A snowball. 2. How many letters in the Christmas alphabet? 25 there's Noel. 3. Letting the cat out of the bag is a whole lot easier than putting one in the bag.Enjoy your jokes folks..try to find more for next week..as it's so good for us to laugh.  ..Have a good week, stay well, enjoy the snow as it seems like it's here to stay.  to all.